From the press

Musungu's eight-catch, 165-yard day at Princeton in November 2024 was the biggest receiving game by any Ivy player that season and included an 82-yard strike, Cornell's longest pass play in six years; the league named him Offensive Player of the Week. He sat out all of 2025 injured but returned for 2026 as a Phil Steele FCS Preseason All-American.

- Named Ivy League Offensive Player of the Week (Nov. 4, 2024) after eight catches for 165 yards and a touchdown in Cornell's win at Princeton; the 165 yards were the most by any Ivy player that season, and his 82-yard catch from Jameson Wang was Cornell's longest passing play since Sept. 29, 2018. (Ivy League (ivyleague.com), 2024)
- His Ivy League weekly honor was covered by Binghamton television station WBNG alongside Cornell hockey honorees. (WBNG-TV, 2024)
- Entering 2026 after missing all of 2025 with an injury, he was named a Phil Steele FCS Preseason All-American (the article spells his name 'Musungo'). (Ithaca Times (ithaca.com), 2026)

DK Garza put up one of the biggest seasons in San Antonio history at Alamo Heights in 2025: 3,384 rushing yards on 267 carries, 51 touchdowns, and a city-record 512 yards in one game against Victoria West, often while sitting out second halves. He signed with Cornell in February 2026 planning to study business and stay all four years.

- As an Alamo Heights senior in 2025 Garza rushed for 3,384 yards on just 267 carries, breaking a San Antonio-area single-season record that had stood since 2008, and scored 51 touchdowns. (News 4 San Antonio / WOAI (Zack Hedrick), Feb. 5, 2026)

- He set a city single-game record with 512 rushing yards against Victoria West in 2025; coach Ron Rittimann said Garza sat out the second half of four to six of the team's 14 games. (News 4 San Antonio, Feb. 5, 2026)
- He signed with Cornell on National Signing Day, Feb. 4, 2026, after drawing few scholarship offers despite the numbers; he plans to study business and stay four years rather than enter the transfer portal. (News 4 San Antonio, Feb. 5, 2026)
- Rittimann on Garza: "He does things that not too many high school athletes can do... I think his best years are still ahead of him." (News 4 San Antonio, Feb. 5, 2026)

From the press

Smith was a 2025 finalist for the Atlanta Falcons High School Man of the Year Award, honored for a 3.9 GPA and community work in Coweta County as well as his play at outside linebacker for Newnan. His blocked field goal in the fourth quarter sparked Newnan's August 2025 comeback against rival East Coweta.

- As a senior outside linebacker at Newnan, Smith was named a finalist for the Atlanta Falcons High School Man of the Year Award (athletics, academics and community service; modeled on the NFL's Walter Payton Man of the Year) and carried a Falcons flag at the opening ceremony of the Falcons-Panthers game on Nov. 16, 2025. (The Newnan Times-Herald, Clay Neely, Dec. 2, 2025)

- He carried a 3.9 GPA with advanced coursework in chemistry, physics, algebra and Spanish, and volunteered with youth sports groups and programs supporting children and families in Coweta County. (The Newnan Times-Herald, Dec. 2, 2025)
- Newnan head coach Chip Walker: 'Josiah is the kind of young man every coach hopes to lead.' Athletic director Brandavious Mann: 'Josiah reflects the very best of Newnan High School.' (The Newnan Times-Herald, Dec. 2, 2025)
- In Newnan's August 2025 comeback win over rival East Coweta, Smith blocked a field-goal attempt early in the fourth quarter, a play the AJC's recap credited with helping turn the momentum. (The Atlanta Journal-Constitution (AJC Varsity), August 2025)

Personal: Son of Laureen McLee, with two brothers and six sisters. Full name listed as K'Adrain Kavon McLee. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

From the press

McLee did almost everything for Uniontown: a 2023 recruiting profile listed him at receiver, quarterback, outside linebacker and safety, leading the area in yards per catch. Though he had only started varsity football as a junior, his coach called him the Red Raiders' top player heading into 2023 and moved him to quarterback, with Division I programs taking notice.

- Entering his senior year at Uniontown in 2023, coach Keith Jeffries called McLee the team's top player and said he was drawing Division I interest; he was set to take over at quarterback after mostly playing wide receiver, having started varsity football only the previous season. (TribLive High School Sports Network, 'Independent schedule allowed Uniontown to experience success,' Aug. 24, 2023)
- A 2023 recruiting profile listed him playing WR, QB, OLB and S for Uniontown, leading the WPIAL/All-County in yards per reception, with offers listed from Cornell, Lock Haven and Notre Dame (the profile does not say which Notre Dame). (Pennsylvania Football News, player profile, July 2023)

High school: Two-time all-NEPSAC selection at tight end at St. Paul's School. Two-time all-conference choice. Led the league in receiving yards as a junior with 30 catches for more than 500 yards and three scores. Posted 625 yards and nine touchdowns as a senior. Four-year letter winner in basketball and played two seasons of baseball.

Personal: Son of Kimberly Kurtz. Has an older sister, Tessa, who graduated from Ithaca College in 2022.

From the press

Kurtz is Cornell's all-time touchdown leader among tight ends, a record he broke against Yale in 2025 and only learned about from his mother after the game, as the Cornell Daily Sun reported. A Second Team All-Ivy pick in 2025 who led all Ivy tight ends in receiving yards per game, he carries a stack of All-America honors from Stats Perform, the AP and FCS Football Central, and opened 2026 as a First-Team Preseason All-American.

- Broke Cornell's record for career touchdown catches by a tight end (six) with a first-down grab over the middle from Devin Page against Yale in the 2025 Ivy opener; he said, 'I had no idea I broke the record until my mom told me after the game.' (The Cornell Daily Sun, Zeinab Faraj, Sept. 30, 2025)
- Named to the 2025 FCS Football Central Preseason All-America team before his junior season. (The Cornell Daily Sun, August 2025)
- Second Team All-Ivy League in 2025 after 44 catches for 523 yards and four touchdowns; his 52.3 receiving yards per game led all Ivy tight ends. (All-Ivy announcement, Nov. 25, 2025)
- Named a Stats Perform FCS third-team All-American for 2025, adding to AP honorable mention (2024) and FCS Football Central third-team All-America honors; entered 2026 as a First-Team FCS Football Central Preseason All-American. (Stats Perform / FCS Football Central All-America announcements, Dec. 17, 2025 and July 22, 2026)

The series: Brown vs. Cornell

All-time: Brown leads 39-32-1. First meeting Nov. 16, 1895 (Cornell 6-4). Brown's longest run was nine straight wins, 2008-2016; Cornell then won three in a row (2017-19). The last two years split: Brown 23-21 in Providence in 2024, Cornell 30-24 in double overtime in Ithaca in 2025. Five of the last six were decided by one possession.

Last year, Oct. 25, 2025 at Schoellkopf Field — Cornell 30, Brown 24 (2OT). Brown led 17-6 entering the fourth quarter. Bass-Sulpizio's 10-yard run and McAuliffe's two-point catch made it 17-14 with 3:44 left; Roost's 25-yard field goal with 46 seconds left tied it. In the first overtime Murphy found Pezza from 25 yards, Triplett answered from 2. In the second, Triplett's 1-yard run (his third TD) made it 30-24 and Brown, at the Cornell 5, was stopped on fourth down. Murphy threw for 471 yards; Pezza had 9 catches for 172. Both teams gained exactly 503 yards.

Things to say to sound like you know

- "Malo's averaging almost fourteen tackles a game — nobody in FCS has more." (#10, Brown LB)
- "Triplett scored three on us last year, the last one in double overtime." (#41, Cornell RB; also Georgia's all-time high-school rushing leader, 9,028 yards)

- "Cornell hadn't beaten a top-five team since 1939 until last week." (48-38 over Lehigh)
- "Brown's thrown one touchdown pass all season and turned it over eleven times — if they protect the ball, the defense gives them a chance."
- "This stadium opened a hundred and one years ago today." (Oct. 24, 1925)
- "Roost, the Cornell punter-kicker, is from Perth. Western Australia." (#39)
- "Bass-Sulpizio is the first Cornell player since Ed Marinaro to run for a touchdown in seven straight games." (#8, Cornell QB; Marinaro was 1971's Heisman runner-up)

Sources & notes

Built Saturday morning, Oct. 24, 2026, for offline reading. Rosters: brownbears.com (Brown numbers, heights, hometowns, high schools, majors, captains) and cornellbigred.com (Cornell list, bios). Brown photos, 2026 and 2025 statistics, schedules, standings, team stats, head coaches, the betting line and the weather icon: ESPN's public college-football data (site.api.espn.com), pulled Saturday morning. Game preview facts: Brown Athletics game notes (Oct. 22) via BVM Sports; Cornell season outlook (cornellbigred.com, Sept. 14); Cornell's Oct. 25, 2025 game story. Series history: Winsipedia. Stadium: Wikipedia. Forecast: Open-Meteo for 02906.

Caveats: ESPN's roster and the schools' rosters differ in a few places (three Brown players appear only on ESPN's list and are marked; some Cornell numbers may have changed). Cornell's photos come from the school's content network; the few Brown players without an ESPN photo show initials. Statistics are through last weekend's games. Brown's site does not expose bio text to this tool, so Brown bios are built from the official roster line, ESPN statistics, the game notes, and a press search per player (each line names its source; nothing from social media or login-walled sites). Numbers from unverified sources were left out.
